

Corporate Profile

Interpro was incorporated in 1990 as Interpro Forest Products which is the organization's flagship company and corporate headquarters. Starting as a regional wholesaler supplying lumber into a few markets, Interpro has gradually built up its capabilities to become a truly global forest products company. Now, Interpro has four global subsidiary units operating in three key divisions: (1) logistics (2) exporting of lumber, sawn wood, and panel products and (3) manufacturing of wood products.

The history of Interpro is best characterized by a persistent focus to diversify export markets and product lines in a framework that places its stakeholders at the heart of the business model. With a 20 year track record and a strong industry-wide reputation, satisfied customers and suppliers across the world refer to Interpro as a trustworthy partner and provider of lumber, sawn wood, panels, and manufactured wood products.

Subsidiaries

INTERPRO FOREST PRODUCTS

Alongside performing the functions of a corporate headquarters, Interpro Forest Products is the flagship company of the Interpro Group as well as principal exporter in the division of lumber, sawn wood, and panel products.
