

Interpro Intermodal Inc.

Logistics Subsidiary

Distribution, Storage, and Logistics

New Westminster, British Columbia, Canada

For an organization such as Interpro who has business activities and operations extending across the globe, the management and precise coordination of shipments is vitally important. Interpro Intermodal Inc is the organization's logistics and transportation center which is responsible for much of the management of Interpro's exports.

This in-house unit promptly facilitates the logistics of exporting making sure all parties comply with customs laws and governmental regulations. We also provide customers with shipping schedules, guarantee proper on-time documentation, and proactively work with the shipping lines to assure competitive pricing and to apportion monthly container space. For exports originating in different countries, Interpro Intermodal acts as a global freight forwarder. We handle the complex system of export documentation in a way that allows the customer to feel confident and avoid unnecessary stress. Whether the destination country requires phytosanitary certificates to clear customs or export documents to be certified by certain local agencies, Interpro Intermodal has the expertise to manage these issues while maintaining a high standard for customer service.

We also operate a reloading facility that has the capacity to hold 5 million board feet of lumber (12,000 m³), sawnwood, and panel products varying in grade, size, treatment, and species. Therefore Interpro has the strategic ability to customize and mix container loads to meet unique customer specifications.
