About us

Management Training Australia focuses on delivering training workshops of high take home value. We can tailor every workshop as well as select aspects of different workshops to suit your needs.

Each section of every workshop brings the participant's actual work scenarios into the training room and participants decide on the changes they will implement from their learning before they leave the workshop.

Our presenters are high quality communicators and are current managers. Their depth and freshness of real world knowledge combines to deliver a highly practical experience for the participants.

The workshops utilise a variety of learning approaches. Participants receive highly relevant material as well as video, discussions, role plays, training games, assessments and team exercises to ensure that participants are engaged and learning throughout the whole time.
